The California Community Choice Association (CalCCA) provides redline edits and an embedded comment to section 11.2.6.1 (see attachment). These edits would allow resources and load serving entities (LSE) to complete the Day-Ahead Market Enhancements (DAME) Transitional Measures election process at any time during the three-year DAME Transition Period, with 30 days' notice to the California Independent System Operator Corporation, to reflect the fact that LSEs and resources may enter into Resource Adequacy contracts on a monthly basis. CalCCA's changes are consistent with the policy in the Revised Final Proposal, which did not communicate a one-time election process.^[1]
